

Plymouth Community Arts Council

Student Photography Club

We are looking for family input for our student photography club. We are proposing that the club meet twice per month with professional photographer Jen Prouty serving as our mentor. Each meeting would include a photography “lesson”, as well as picture-taking and social time. The students would leave the meeting with prompts for picture taking “assignments” to work on during their own time.

Exhibit opportunities on our website, dedicated facebook album, and a month-long student exhibit at the PCAC would also be part of the program. In addition, the photography club students would have opportunities to be official student photographers at local Plymouth events. These “internships” would be real-life photo assignment that students can use as part of their portfolio for high school, college or volunteer service hours. Both Jen and PCAC Director Lisa Howard, have experience with middle school and high school artists.

By filling out this form, you are not obligated to participate, but the information will help us create a program that meets the needs of our Plymouth area students and their families. Thank YOU!!!
