Date	Presenter	Program
Jan 15	Kelly McDermott	Nessa: A band with “funky Celtic roots, world chamber fusion, and choice pop”. A return after their debut performance with us last year
Jan 22	Steven Stanford	Henry Ford: the Educator: One of the many facets of Henry Ford’s personality was his interest in, and influence on, the field of education.
Jan 29	Pam Yockey	My Aunties Scanties: Smile and giggle as we learn about the history of underwear. Pam will discuss a variety of clothing from the 1700’s until today.
Feb 5	Michael Tucker	What’s New at Kensington Park? Visitors are welcome year round at this beautiful park located in Milford. Come and learn about all it offers and meet some of its critters too!
Feb 12	Nicole Freeman	Exercise Almost Anywhere! Nicole will discuss the benefits of exercise and demonstrate some that we can do almost anywhere.
Feb 19	Anne Lawrence	The Clothesline Historian: Ann collects and shares “anything and everything” related to clotheslines, but she says her presentation is really about “nostalgia, simple things, and happy memories.”
Feb 26	Michael Hauser	Those Were the Days: There was a time in the 20 th century when both sides of Woodward Avenue in downtown Detroit were lined with retail shops. Revisit those days with Michael.
March 5	Tom Birchler	A Morning Musical Interlude: A chance to sing along! Mr. Birchler performs the songs you know from the American Songbook classics. Everything he sings is fun, familiar, and heartfelt, and will put a spring smile on your face.
March 12	Maureen Ester	Russia’s Peter the Great: The founder of modern Russia, Tsar at age 10 and later Emperor, was a powerhouse of energy. Come and meet a “giant” in Russian history.
March 19	Carol Sue Brodbeck	Apron Artistry – Ties Bind Past to Present. Aprons tell a story of society, from the first one fashioned by a Neanderthal to those in the 21 st Century. Not only are they functional, but also works of art. Come learn about their history, and see and touch a few surprising examples from Carol’s personal collection.
